Pullman Fire Department

Reserve Firefighters

The Pullman Fire Department is composed of both full-time City employees, and Reserve Firefighters. Reserve Firefighters must attend the department training academy before being allowed to participate fully with the mission of the Pullman Fire Department. Once completed with both the fire academy and the First Responder course, Reserve Firefighters respond on fire and EMS calls as well as Hazardous Material releases and service calls. There are numerous opportunities to participate in specialty teams and training once a member of the department.

What does a Pullman Reserve Firefighter do?

Reserve firefighters will be assigned duties based on demonstrated proficiency, the amount of training, and the length of service. All reserve firefighters shall maintain proficiency of their assignments with regard to the standards of the department. Reserve firefighters are assigned approximately 9 duty nights per month (1800-0600) in which they respond to the station for calls during this period.

When the Reserves are not responding to emergency calls, they participate in many different community service events. Such as providing medical aid at WSU and Pullman High School football games, and other events. Teaching First-Aid and CPR classes (when certified). Participating in parades and at the 4th of July celebration.

Where do Pullman Fire Reserves serve?

When there is an emergency call, on duty reserves will respond to Station 32 on North Grand and Terre View Drive.

The reserves serve the city of Pullman, the city of Palouse, and several small communities outside of the Pullman city limits.

Recruit Academy

Pullman Fire assumes their recruits are at ground zero. They provide instruction for recruits to become state certified First Responders. Pullman also trains the recruits to a level equivalent to that of Fire Fighter I. This training is completed in a "recruit academy". The recruits receive about 130 hours of training.

During the training, the recruits will attend about 2 months of medical training lecture and practicals. The final 3 months are spent learning and practicing fire fighting techniques.
